B And P Women Hear Of Peace Through Education

A more positive goal than the use of the atomic bomb is needed to solve the problem of a peaceful and more fruitful world, Miss Dorothy A. Wright, instructor at the University of Maryland, told members of the Business and Professional Women's Club in speaking on "Adult Education In World Affairs" at the dinner-meeting, Tuesday night at the Y.

Through the United States people are groping themselves for a more peaceful government, she said and explained that to meet the goal groups all over the country are studying peace and education as the only way to a better world, for all the world, for a better understanding of peace. But for a real peaceful world other nations no more do so.
