

The Weather:
Windy, sunny, hot, chance of rain around. Cool at night. Moderate

Cumberland Sunday Times.

VOL. LXXXVIII—NO. 117

International News Service

CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND, SUNDAY, APRIL 28, 1957

Associated Press Service—AP Photo

LATEST
WORLD NEWS
The Sunday Times goes to press "live"
live news other papers reading old copy

PRICE TEN CENTS

Jordan Pushes War On Leftists

U.S. Committed To Role In Violent Mid-East

To Be Tried
By Military
Court Setup

Step Taken
By Support
Of Hussein

Nasser Welcomes Kuratly

Needs Cited
For Defense
Of Panama

Rackets Probers Claim Four 'Key'

King Saud Messages
Congratulations For
Reuniting Of Quedo

Mrs. James P. Hallinan, seated, will wear this three-piece suit in black and white. The black slim line skirt has a back kick pleat. The cotton knit check over blouse is sleeveless and has a round neck while the linea boxy jacket is white with piping of black. Mrs. Miles G. Thompson Jr., will wear this beige rayon eyelet embroidered linen sheath dress with a jewel neckline and short sleeves.

Mrs. Ralph Nevy, center, will be attired in this pink linen dress with pink knit tuxedo front sweater. There are deep cuffs on the sweater. The outfit is designed for wear everywhere this summer in comfort. Miss Louise Rosenbaum, right, who will act as narrator, is wearing a solid black sleeveless dress with a tweed black and beige jacket.

Cumberland Sunday Times

April 28, 1957

p 12

Mrs. Ralph Nevy, center, will be attired in this pink linen dress with pink knit tuxedo front sweater. There are deep cuffs on the sweater. The outfit is designed for wear everywhere this summer in comfort. Miss Louise Rosenbaum, right, who will act as narrator, is wearing a solid black sleeveless dress with a tweed black and beige jacket.

April 28, 1957

p 12

FASHIONS IN 'SUMMER STOCK'

Mrs. Donald Grove will wear this long all-over-silk sheath dress with very neck and waistline. The full length organza coat in matching color has ruffled short sleeves.

Mrs. Samuel Worthheimer, left, will model this black rayon shantung dress. It has an upper bodice of gray, with gold and white stripes for piping, white slate-blue stripes for piping, and short sleeves. The slim skirt has a wide belt of gray with white and yellow stripes.

The Community Service Group of the Woman's Civic Club will sponsor a fashion show and card party Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Clarysville Inn.

The theme of the show is "Summer Stock" and will feature fashions in spring and summer clothes from Rosenbaum's. Miss Louise Rosenthal will be narrator. Proceeds from the annual affair will go toward the nurse scholarship fund, a project of the group. Tickets are available from any member of the Community Service Group or by calling Mrs. D. C. Goodfellow. They may be purchased at the door also.

Mrs. James P. Hellman, seated, will wear this three-piece suit in black and white. The black silk sheath skirt has a belt with black piping. The collar and cuffs over blouse is decorated with piping. The matching coat has the same piping. Mrs. Miles G. Thompson Jr., will wear this white caped jacket embroidered with black flowers with a jeweled necklace and short sleeves.

Mr. Ralph May, center, will be attired in this pink lace dress with pink knit textured front panels. There are deep ruffles on the shoulders. The outfit is designed for wear over a white lace-trimmed underslip. Miss Louise Rosenthal, right, who will be our narrator, is wearing a solid black sleeveless dress with a broad black and beige belt.

Above is the committee planning the annual benefit. Left in right are Mrs. Edith E. Miller, Mrs. E. E. Strohman, Mrs. Rosalie Green, Mrs. June B. Williams, Mrs. Charles Helmick, Mrs. John A. Huberty and Mrs. G. George Smith.

This vintage group will also model in the Wednesday show. Left is Jo Anna Corradice, attired in a batiste-length party dress of nylon sheer pink dot with detachable sleeves and satin sash-and-bow belt. Marie Naughton is wearing a Jantzen knit extra with a high立领和 butter neckline. At right Ned Taylor is wearing a Jantzen Logan candy stripe dress with space heelles and gold pleats. This has a cotton top.

The children are in the fashion display also. Left to right are Wendy Geist, young girl in polka-dot romping dress with a self-hemmed petticoat. It's a Cumberland Rayon Geist, size 6. The other two girls are wearing a Fox Moore knit shirt and striped reversible jacket; the one on the outside is a crepe dress; the other is a sleeveless dress with cape collar. Joanne Scott, 11, is in an off-the-shoulder rayon jersey dress with a ruffled hemline. The other two girls are wearing a Catalina swim suit of nappy cotton, and Jenny Taylor, 10, is wearing a Keweenaw nylon dress with a separate apron pin-tucks.